Bark Sea Fox at sea
May 17th 1857.

We have now been at sea 6. days and have had a very pleasant time so far and bids fair to be a pleasant voyage. a good ship and a good crew as they average commenced standing mastheads this day. and lowered the boats to practice the crew and gave very good sat-

Bark Sea Fox of

May 25

Another week has passed away and we have not seen the first thing yet All hands has been at work every good day in fitting ship on the boats &c &c We have hugged the gulf along in hopes of seeing something but have not so much as seen a blackfish we have had a very rugged time so far we see plenty of sails and that is about all

Westport Capt Caleb Spooner

Sunday June 1st 1857

Another week is gone and we have not got anything yet we have not seen the first whale yet we have seen blackfish twice this week lowered once but could not get fast, we have had very rugged weath-
more than two good whale days this week past our ship does not behave the best that ever was she is so stiff that she rolls about like everything we are now making the best of our way for the western ground in hopes of getting something
